The Power of RSS

“Donning my lil.org hat, we had a remarkable education when we added RSS feeds [to our newsletters]. Now people find us through the blog-finding agents. Librarians, including me, suck at marketing, but by adding RSS feeds, we stumbled onto a way for the audience to find us, instead of the glacially slow process of dissemination through our existing readership.”

Karen Schneider - Free Range Librarian

http://freerangelibrarian.com/archives/012905/lists_versus_blogs_.php

Where to start?

1. Become familiar with RSS/webfeeds concept
2. Get an aggregator and start
3. Find an RSS feed
4. Subscribe
5. Watch the 'feeds' build up in your aggregator
6. Read new content in one place at your leisure
